Hedges

DWARF NINEBARK—One of the finest hedge plants that can be grown here. Leaves come out early in the spring and stay green a month later in the fall than any other shrub.

COTONEASTER ACUTIFOLIA—A fine, clean, smooth plant with dark green, glossy leaves that turn to crimson color in the fall.

HONEYSUCKLE, BELLA ALBIDA—The white-flowering Honeysuckle that grows more compact than the others. Very hardy and dependable.

Any of the above hedge plants, 12 to 15 inch, each 25c.

Specimen Evergreens

These trees have all been transplanted from two to five times. Dug with earth ball on roots, wrapped in burlap and tied double with 2 ply sisal twine, at no extra cost.

COLORADO BLUE SPRUCE (Green Color) Each

15-18 inch	$1.50
1½-2 ft.	2.00

COLORADO BLUE SPRUCE, "Shiners" (Silver Blue Color)—

These blue shiners are the very best obtainable in the seed trees. We price them according to form and height. About $2.25 per foot of height.

THUJA OCCIDENTALIS PYRAMIDALIS—

We have a few Pyramidal Arborvitae, well grown good bushy trees. Matched pairs at $7.00 or single trees at $4.00 each. They run about 2½ to 3 feet tall.

BLACK HILLS SPRUCE—

The Black Hills Spruce is a great favorite here, making a much better tree than the Norway. The tree maintains a compact symmetrical growth even in small trees. The foliage is a fresh attractive green, often running to blue. It is thrifty and fast growing. A good tree wherever planted.

Junipers

Junipers are comparatively new in the nursery trade. The various forms grow in almost any shape and color. Very hardy and will stand a great deal of dry weather. Most desirable for landscape work.

JUNIPERUS VIRGINIANA PYRAMIDIFORMIA HILLI—

The Hill Dundee Juniper is the best of the upright compact green forms. It is a sport of Juniperus Virginiana and does not discolor nearly as bad in winter.

4-5 ft. grafts, staked(Each) $6.00
3-4 ft. grafts, staked(Each) 5.00

JUNIPERUS SABINA—

The well known Sabin Juniper is perhaps the most used of the half-erect groups. Grown from cuttings, it is easily transplanted.
